The girls were soon gathered around the table and began to make the new affair. When I think how much I care about what she did, but I can never feel the same toward her again.

While we were at the show every thing was all right because my boy friend was with me and my girl friend didn't have much chance to talk to him, but as soon as we got home she did everything she could to make him notice her. She is very pretty and a nice girl. When I think I am losing a boy, I can't do a thing to hold my own. I am very quiet and let the other girl do just as she pleases.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl

19 years old and I am in love with a young man a year my senior. He has been going with me for several months and hasn't had anything to do with girls.

A few nights ago I invited my girl friend over and my boy friend brought a friend of his. We went to a show and then came home and played cards.
